Lyrics and music by Michéal Ceoltóir.

September 6th, 2021.

introduction: //: instrumental – chords verses :// 8+8 bars

- A Hm
1. She was 15 and I was just born. / Came with my mum / by train in the mornin`.
- D D/E
- Certainly n screamer but certainly to small. / Later in love I would fall.
2. Saw what life gave her over the years. / Two men and a girl and a glass full of tears.
Always an open door by the track. / Remember those days and want to go back.

A

chorus: //: She calls me Hippie Daisy Thommy.

F#m

She fools me Hippie Daisy Thommy.

D/Hm

She guards me Hippie Daisy Thommy.

D/E

She`s there for Hippie Daisy Thommy. ://

3. Lost her for 20 years or a bit more / and asking ourselves for what reason for.
We stood in the rain and we saw the black floor. / Decided to find a way tot he shore.
4. The door is still open in the house by the track. / My train in the morning shows the green flag.
And through the window you notice me. / You will call me, you will guide me.

interlude: //: instrumental – chords verses :// 8+8 bar

5. Both of us / much older now. / Life has always been a great show.

Little bit wiser, / a little bit calm. / Still your smile in the dawn.

6. Words may come / and sounds may go. / But this tune here / I want it so.

Certainly no screamer, / but certainly too shy.

Come on, come on! Come on! Let us fly!
